

SHOT FROM THE RIGHT.

THE SECOND AUTOPSY ON MISS FULLER BREAKS THE THEORY OF SUICIDE.

DR. O'HARE SAYS THE PISTOL WAS AT LEAST TWO FEET AWAY FROM HER HEAD WHEN THE SHOT WAS FIRED, AND THE BALL ENTERED THE RIGHT TEMPLE—SUGGESTIONS OF AN ACCIDENT.

That Martha J. Fuller died by murder and not by her own hand seems now to be conclusively established. The second autopsy, made yesterday, this time by Deputy Coroner Dr. O'Hare and Dr. Charles Phelps, visiting surgeon at Bellevue and St. Vincent hospitals, has settled this much-vexed, much-discussed point almost beyond the possibility of a doubt. The autopsy has not only demonstrated the manner of Miss Fuller's death, it has also destroyed the effect of that part of the case bearing on the half-gloved left hand and the bullet-hole in the left side of the forehead.

Drs. O'Hare and Phelps are sure that the bullet entered the brain of the woman from the right side of the head, passing out at the left. At first sight this would seem to support Margee's suggestion of suicide.

But the surgeons are both sure that the wound was not self-inflicted, and that it was fired from a distance of at least two feet. "Unless a pretty long experience in wounds of this character goes for nothing," said Dr. O'Hare yesterday, "that bullet was fired by a hand other than that of Miss Fuller. No bullet of that calibre (28) fired by a suicide ever yet failed to leave the marks of powder or singed flesh around the edges of the wound." In support of the decision that the bullet was fired into the right temple Dr. O'Hare advances the following propositions: First, that the skull was fractured clear around the top of the head. Second, that the bones shattered by the bullet in its course had been driven from right to left. Third, that the force of the ball was diminished by contact with the tissue of the brain, and that in its exit on the left side it left, therefore, a larger wound. Under the wound in the left side of the head lay the clogged mass of tissue, while the wound in the right side was practically free from obstruction."

Asked to explain the presence of the gash on the right temple, Dr. O'Hare simply replied: "Oh, that cut was simply superficial, and was probably made by Dr. Conway when he first examined the wound." As a matter of fact the hole on that side was actually the smaller of the two. The wound made by the entry of the bullet was oblong, half an inch in length and three-eighths of an inch wide; that in the left side was an inch wide and a half long and three-quarters of an inch wide.

The result of the second autopsy, the marks left by the bullet, taken with the remarkable story told by J. Frank Kernan, Editor of "The Retail Liquor Dealer," and by John F. Riley, the lawyer, both of whom have offices in the building on the floor immediately above Mr. Mullen's rooms, go to show that Miss Fuller was shot as she stood with her back to the window, having apparently risen from a chair to leave the room.

MR. KERNAN'S STORY.

After telling Low and Mr. Riley heard the shot, which they at first took to be escaping steam; how, as he went downstairs, three minutes later, he heard Margee cry out for help; how he turned back to the second floor, and was met in the hallway by Margee, who caught him by the arm, saying: "For Heaven's sake, come into the office; there has been a dreadful accident." Mr. Kernan says:

"I went into the office and saw in a sitting position on the floor, with her back against the radiator, a young woman. The radiator stands against the window, which looks out on Nassau-st. The blind was up, exposing the interior of the office to those in the Bennett Building opposite. Her legs were extended out toward the rear of the room; her head was inclined slightly to the left side, the blood flowing from the wound in the temple. With the instant of an old newspaper man, I had looked first for the revolver. I saw it lying on the floor, but I did not pick it up. There was no revolver in any part of the room when I entered it. Nor was it over or near the body of the woman when I knelt down by her side. I saw that she had been shot in the back of the head. The second thing that struck me was the position of the chair at that end of the room. It was at the left side of the woman, between her desk and the radiator, and was turned half around, as if somebody in rising had impatiently pushed it or kicked it aside. Behind the chair was a revolving bookcase. I said to Margee: 'That chair was moved, and I did not see it in the middle of the room.' As I went out of the room to call a policeman I asked Margee to put something under her head. But she shrunk away as if unwilling to touch her; and she said: 'I did it.'"

HE SAW NO REVOLVER.

Mr. Kernan ran out into Nassau-st. and called a policeman and went home. Mr. Riley, entering the room with Mr. Kernan, saw no revolver, although he was searched for it. Yet, ten minutes later, Margee was heard to reproach Kernan, the office boy, for firing the revolver from the floor to the top of the roll-desk. In this little room, six feet wide and about fourteen long, there are two desks—that used by Margee, in the center of the northern wall, and that used by Miss Fuller, which is diagonally opposite and nearer the window.

Mr. Kernan's statement, the bruise of the bullet in the temple and the wall and the position of the articles in the room make clear the probable position of Miss Fuller when the bullet struck her. She had started up from the chair, putting on her gloves and standing near the north upper end of the room, in a line with the roll-desk. The shot was fired from between the two desks nearer the lower or door end of the room and on the south side. Thus the bullet, passing in an upward slant toward her head, struck the temple, and entered and embedded itself in the wall. The two pools of blood, one in the center of the room between the two desks, and the other against the radiator, show that Miss Fuller had fallen on her back in the first instance, and was probably lifted into a sitting position against the radiator before Mr. Kernan entered the room.

ONE POINT OVERLOOKED.

One significant point has passed without previous notice. Margee has said that he was in the outer office washing his hands when he heard the shot. But in his own room, the room in which Miss Fuller was shot, are the washstand and towel-rack usual in such offices. These he had always used, and had never been known to wash in the outer office, which is commonly used by the junior clerks and office boys.

No other fact of any importance was developed yesterday. Detective Sergeant McCuskey and Miss Fuller were walking under an air of mystery. They did not wish to talk about the case, and they obey their instructions to the letter.

A possible explanation of the mystery is that the wound was accidentally inflicted while Margee or Miss Fuller was fooling with the revolver. In support of this his first excited exclamation when he had plainly lost control of his nerves, his wife, there has been a dreadful accident," may be urged. It is suggested that he lost courage, and in fear adopted the assertion to which he has since clung. The divorce suit, however, shows that Margee had fallen on her back in the first instance, and was probably lifted into a sitting position against the radiator before Mr. Kernan entered the room.

the scene of the shooting, and will take charge of the case.

WHAT AN AUNT OF MISS FULLER SAYS.

Newburg, N. Y., March 20 (Special).—Miss Martha J. Fuller, known and popular at Scott's Corners, about eleven miles back in this city. She had been in the habit of spending her vacations there at the home of her grandfather, Jonathan T. Fuller. A reporter visited the place and met Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Christopher T. Fuller, her aunt. Mrs. Marshall said that it was only on Thursday of last week that she conversed with Miss Fuller at her home. Her niece was then in the best of spirits. She spoke of her plans for the coming summer, she intended to take a vacation in July and spend the most of it at the home of relatives in Milwaukee, Wis., the remainder at Scott's Corners. Miss Fuller had already begun to make preparations for her vacation. Mrs. Marshall said that Martha had frequently spoken to the members of her family in regard to Margee's attempt to marry her. She told Mrs. Marshall, upon occasion, that Margee was a smart, high-spirited girl, but that she was not a very good person. She said that she had known her for a long time, that he was a very good man, and had heard lately that he had been divorced.

In the course of the conversation Mrs. Marshall revealed to the reporter the fact that she was the widow of the late Mr. Marshall, who was the father of the dead girl, Mrs. Marshall said it was the wedding ring of Martha's mother, Mrs. Marshall believed that Margee had shot the girl in the back of the head, and that she had been lifted into a sitting position against the radiator. Mrs. Marshall denies that the girl was ambidextrous.

When the brother, W. E. Fuller, arrived at Scott's Corners to take place early to-morrow afternoon in the Walkill Valley Cemetery.

THROWN FROM HIS CARRIAGE AND BRUISED.

Frederick Mullen, a well-known society man of Staten Island, son of William M. Mullen, a lawyer of this city, in whose office Miss Fuller met her death, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday morning in a runaway accident. He was thrown from his carriage and bruised.

The team being driven by a spirited one, became frightened at a locomotive at the railroad crossing, and the coachman to the ground. Both escaped with minor injuries. The horses ran nearly a mile before they were stopped.

REPUBLICAN VICTORIES UP THE STATE.

RESULTS OF THE CHARTER ELECTIONS IN VARIOUS PLACES—BIG MAJORITIES IN MALONE.

Dolgeville, N. Y., March 20 (Special).—The charter election in Dolgeville today resulted in the reelection of Alfred Dolge as president of the village. He was re-elected by a large majority. It was the first time in the history of the place that there has been any opposition to Mr. Dolge, who has been elected president every year since the village was incorporated. The opposition this year was due entirely to the machinations of emissaries of the New-York Reform Club, who were sent here to stir up discontent against Mr. Dolge. The result was a narrow victory for Mr. Dolge, who was re-elected by a majority of 28 in a total of 282, the opposition ballot being cast by the Socialist element. The issue was the charter of the village, which should insure Mr. Dolge's reelection.

Malone, N. Y., March 20.—The annual charter election was held in Berkshire today, and the entire Republican ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 100 to 200. Mr. William Horner was re-elected President by 254 majority, defeating James Walcott.

Malone, N. Y., March 20.—Malone's charter election today resulted in a sweeping Republican victory. Mayor Bentley being re-elected by a majority of 100. The Republican ticket was elected by a majority of 100. The Republican ticket was elected by a majority of 100.

THE PLOT AGAINST THE COREAN KING.

LATEST PARTICULARS ABOUT THE CONSPIRACY TO BLOW HIM UP.

San Francisco, March 20 (Special).—The steamer City of Peking to-day brought the first particulars received in this country of the conspiracy to blow up the King of Corea and his Ministers. The plot was set for February 6, which is Corea New Year's day, when all classes are expected to be in the city. The King of Corea is a well-known official named Hyn-to-Kon. He informed the Ministers that the Central Government Office was to be blown up with 1,000 pounds of powder, stolen from magazines at Jinsen and from several forts. Investigation revealed that the powder was ready for firing. A Corean named Kichu was found in the act of planting the bomb, and he and twenty-six others were arrested.

Torture brought out confession from several prisoners that the plot was a conspiracy to blow up the King of Corea and his Ministers. The plot was set for February 6, which is Corea New Year's day, when all classes are expected to be in the city.

TWO FEDERAL COURTS WITHOUT FUNDS.

JURY CASES AT UTICA MUST GO OVER FOR THE TERM BECAUSE OF CONGRESS' FAILURE TO MAKE AN APPROPRIATION.

Utica, N. Y., March 20.—The March terms of the United States Circuit and District Courts were docketed to open in this city to-day. At the time of the opening of the court, United States District Judge A. C. Cox spoke, in substance, as follows:

"I wish to call to the fact that Congress has wholly failed to provide for the expense of the court, no jury business can be transacted in the District Court at this term. The inconvenience, annoyance and injustice caused by this state of affairs is too apparent to need to be said to say that it will be fully a year before the court can recover from the confusion and what is true here is doubtless true all over the country. It is proper that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a civil nature in the District Court, it is necessary that the judges and the clerks should be paid for the services of this district. He has repeatedly notified the Department of Justice of the situation here, and has been told that the money would be paid. As there may be some business of a